	2- For the purposes of this Convention the term ‘marine aids to navigation’ means a device, system or service, external to a vessel, designed and operated to enhance safe and efficient navigation of all vessels and/or vessel traffic.	Consider having an Article with definitions; strike out “and/or vessel traffic services” or consider amending the sentence to “...designed and operated to enhance the safety and efficiency of vessel traffic and vessel navigation.” Remove. Have definition in Basic Concepts of the Convention. For consistency. The definition should be more accurate to exclude services that are beyond the scope of IALA. VTS should also be defined. 14 Signature, Ratification and Accession	14.1. This Convention shall open for signature by Members of the United Nations at [xxx] and remain open until [xxx].
	14.2. This Convention is subject to ratification, acceptance or approval by the signatory States.
	14.3. This Convention shall be open for accession by any Member of the United Nations which has not signed the this Convention from the day after the date on which the this Convention closes for signature.
	14.4. Instruments of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession shall be deposited with the Depository {Government of France} , who shall then notify each Contracting Party Member State and the Secretary-General thereof.	"Instruments of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession shall be deposited with the Depository Government of France , who shall then notify each Contracting Party and the Secretary-General of the Organization thereof."	Japan
14.5. No reservation can be made to this Convention. Ratification, acceptance, or approval of, or accession to, this Convention shall be without reservation.	No subject matter that should give rise to the need for reservations. No amendments needed. Concern about the absence of a reservation right at the time of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession to the Convention. Delete. Possibility to make reservations would reduce the threshold of becoming a Party. Reservations are not incompatible with the purpose of this Convention (especially for amendments). 14.6.	Add a clause on reservations.	Canada
15 Entry into Force	15.1. The present Convention shall enter into force on the thirtieth day after the date of deposit of the [thirtieth] 30th instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession.	Thirtieth (in letters and into brackets)	Japan
	15.2. For each State ratifying, accepting, approving or acceding to the this Convention after its entry into force the Convention shall enter into force on the thirtieth day after the deposit of its instrument of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession.	" this " Convention	Japan
16 Withdrawal	16.1. Any Contracting Party Contracting State may withdraw from this Convention by giving at least twelve month written notice to the Depository {Government of France} , who will immediately inform all Contracting Parties Member States and the Secretary-General of such notification.	Change "Contracting Parties" in the first occurrence to "Contracting States". In accordance with the Vienna Convention on Treaties, "Contracting States" consent to be bound whether or not the treaty is in force for them. (see general comments at the top of the document)	Australia

	16.3. The withdrawal shall take effect on 31 December following the expiration of the notice.	Consider redrafting to shorten the timeframe in which a withdrawal from the Convention will be effective, for example by merging paras. 16(1), (2), and (3), to say the following: "A Contracting Party may, by written notification addressed to the Depositary, withdraw from this Convention. The Depositary will immediately inform all Contracting Parties of such notification. The withdrawal shall take effect 1 year after the date of receipt of the notification by the Depositary". May add "unless the notification specifies a later date."	Canada
17 Termination	17.1. This Convention may be terminated by decision of the General Assembly upon a two-thirds majority of Contracting Parties Member States present and voting, excluding any Contracting Party Member State denied by Article 4.7 the rights and benefits conferred on Contracting Parties Member States .	Decision should be taken by a more representative majority (e.g. 2/3 of the Contracting Parties) than 2/3 of the Contracting Parties present and voting. 	17.2. The date of termination will be twelve months after the date of the above decision, and in the intervening period the Council shall be responsible for the winding up of the Organization in accordance with the General Regulations.	Editorial (see text)	Japan
18 Transitional Arrangements	18.1. Upon the entry into force of this Convention all All National members of the International Association of Marine Aids to Navigation and Lighthouse Authorities, who are not Contracting Parties Member States , shall, with the approval of the Council and subject to their agreement, become Associate M m embers of the Organization.	A balance must be achieved between the objectives and functions of the current IALA and the necessary changes that must be made due to the change of the legal nature of IALA. Capitalise "Members" Remove "upon the entry into force of this Convention". May be subject to their request and agreement. Council approval not needed. Need for this Article should be discussed. It applies also to the States that are not parties to the Convention. May be discussed within the current IALA. Can be a Resolution or any other non-binding instrument. Replace "agreement" with "consent" and capitalise M embers throughout the Article. Need more clarity in transitional arrangements, the relation between the new international organization and former IALA, especially with a view to the fact that the main organs of IALA become transitional organs of the new organization.
